PROFILE

I am a team player with an outstanding track record of effectively assessing project goals, demonstrating a strong work ethic, and excelling at prioritizing project needs to achieve maximum productivity. I have an uncompromising pride in the work I do. I love to observe the people and world around me to learn things through a divergent or obscure lens. I tend to catch on to concepts quickly which allows me to approach problems from different perspectives. I have an exceptional ability to stay calm when faced with stressful situations, and believe this makes me a valuable team member.
